COFFEE

You could tell with both eyes shut that our coffee is pure—the aroma gives positive assurance of that. Coffee is either good or bad, it can't be both, and if it is not one it is the other—there is no middle ground; ours is good, the best in fact—you can take our word for it. Or we'll give your money back if it isn't the best coffee you have ever tasted. All put up in air-tight, parchment lined, paper packages.

HE AVOIDS POLITICS.

Is Greeted With a Splendid Crowd at the Chautauqua.

Politicians and Prominent Friends Bine With Him.

Ottawa, Kan., June 21 .- One of th greatest crowds in the history of the Ottawa Chautauqua assembly greeted William H. Taft, secretary of war, upon his appearance on the platform Thursday afternoon. | Every seat in the great park tabernacle was filled, and crowds stood about the outer edges,

While none of the State executive officers accompanied the Taft party. owing to the conflict of date with the battleship Kansas ceremony, most of the federal crowd were on hand. Senator Long assumed charge of the distinguished visitor, having accompanied him from Leavenworth with a number of the federal court officers. At Holliday Senator Curtis joined the party and along the line a number of statesmen boarded the train. A local committee who met Mr. Taft at Kansas City con-sisted of Judge Smart, F. M. Harris and A. L. Miller.

A committee headed by Judge Benson escorted the party and prominent men attended the meeting to the Elsmere boarding house, Ottawa being badly off for hotels, where they were the guests of the city at luncheon. At Secretary Taft's table were Senators Long and Curtis, Col. Jack Harris, National Committeeman Mulvane, Congressman Scott, W. R. Stubbs, J. L. Bristow, Rev.

Aside from these opening words in his speech Secretary Taft confined himself strictly to his topic, but in these opening sentences he replied to the challenge from W. J. Bryan the day before. "The distinguished citizen of Nebraska who sodressed you yesterday with an anxiety for my weifare, which I very much appreciate," said Mr. Taft, "named several subjects which he desired me to speak to you about. I beg to remind the distinguished Nebraskan that I have discussed these questions of the trusts, tariff revision and railroad regulation on proper occasions. Basing his conclusions on the reports of the en-gineers Mr. Taft said the canal would be finished in seven years. finished in seven years.

The secretary's voice was husky from a recent cold, and he had some difficulty at first in making himself heard. He persistently avoided references to the presidency, further than to reiterate his statement concerning the story of his possible withdrawai from the contest.

Many people greeted the secretary as the "next president" during the day. Mr. Taft received the salutation with

The defense will be conducted by Mr. Darrow and he intimates that there are surprises to

The real struggle begins with the opening of the case for the defense and the outlining of its case. Thursday Afternoon.

Boise, June 21.—The reading of the Miners' magazines continued through a great part of Thursday in the Hay-wood trial, Judge Wood naming each exhibit and announcing at the same time that an objection by the defense to its admission would be overruled and an exception noted. Senator Borah read each article as the exhibit was called. He made no attempt at declamation and in fact called out a protest from Clarence Darrow who at the close of one piece of graphic writing said jokingly: "If you have any more like that, I wish you'd let us read them." The matter introduced cover-ed a wide range from political comed a wide range from political com-ment to extreme denunciation of Steunenberg. Peabody and Goddard coming in for the greater share of the more violent language. The dates ran from 1900 to the end of 1905, but Judge Wood ruled out all the matter offered from the magazines and ap-pearing in the numbers issued after the death of Steunenberg.

Ed Boyce, the former president of the Western Federation of Miners, now a wealthy mine owner of this state, was a constructive witness during the reading, although he was not actually on the stand. He had been introduced by the state to testify that the Miners' magazine was the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners. At the conclusion of the reading, the defense announced that there would be no announced that there would be no cross examination of Mr. Boyce. Judge Wood here allowed the state to introduce a decision by the supreme court of Colorado declaring unconsti-utional the eight hour law. Judge Goddard participated in the decision. The defense insisted that the decision be read in entirety, Senator Borah being at the task for nearly an hour. Luncheon adjournment then was taken until 2 o'clock.

Scott, W. R. Stubbs, J. L. Bristow, Rev. Bernard Kelly, W. Y. Morgan and Hengry J. Allen. Other prominent Kansans were Congressman Calderhead, Senators Fitzpatrick, Quincy and Porter of Montagon, State Bank Commissioner Ryser, H. J. Bone, F. P. MacLennan, U. S. Marshal Mackey, H. F. Milliken of the Dodge City iand office, S. S. Ashbaugh, C. N. Price of Pittsburg, and others.

It was a splendid demonstration, made all the more picturesque by the ware and arawing his catch in toward the Mandkernhefs by the women. Mr. Tatt's voice, in spite of a severe cold, appeared to carry to all parts of the line. "As I stand in this magnificent presence," he said, "I must apologize for contage of the contage of the state of the state was dispensed with for the time being day. New York Stocks,

Wall St., New York, June 21.—STOCKS—Trading today was in slightly larger volume than of late at the opening, and the tendency of prices was downwards. The heavy tone was due in large part to the depression in the London market where internationally listed stocks weakened sharply.
